GERMANY'S SOCIALIST GOVERNM'T REPORTED OVERTHROWN

WILSON MAY TRY FOR THIRD TERM AND RESIGN UPON HIS ELECTION

This Is One Of The Many Possible Courses Left To President Under Pressing Circumstances That Have Arisen In First Days Of 1920 Campaign

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10—Woodrow Wilson, the man whom destiny many times before has compelled to do her bidding, may find escape from a third term nomination impossible.

The impression is growing here that though the president himself made the circumstances, the circumstances in themselves may now turn in take the initiative and point him the way down which he will have almost no alternative but to go.

The schism which is threatened by the stand taken by William Jennings Bryan, on the treaty at Versailles, which, he insists must be ratified immediately in some form or other and not submitted to the country in an election, places Bryan flat footed in one camp with President Wilson just as unmistakably in the other. And as Bryan is the natural and only logical leader of the immediate ratification group of the Democrat party, the president is equally designated as the chief of the faction which opposes immediate ratification.

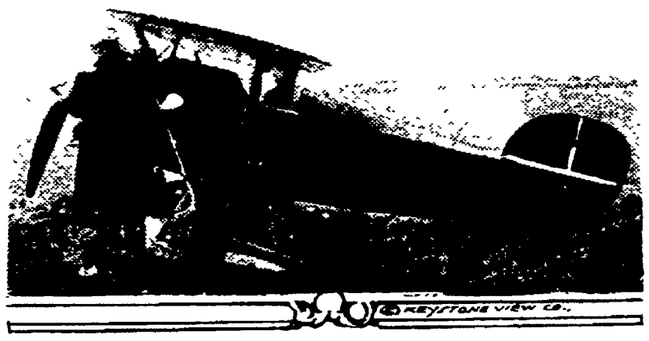

Opposed as a matter of principle to the third term and opposing it because of tradition—besides being physically weakened by his illness brot on by over-work, during his two terms in office—the president, expects if forced by circumstances to make the campaign may choose his running mate with the expressed purpose of withdrawing from office, if elected, leaving his vice president to become at once the head of the nation. This is one of the circumstances discussed here among those who know the president's views.

Unless the amazingly complex situation takes an unexpected turn clarifying itself many insist the president will have to find some way such as the above out of the dilemma.

The president, it is observed, may feel that the only way he has left to him to vindicate the American peace mission, to Paris, in the eyes of Europe and the world, will be to offer himself as candidate for the presidency with the treaty as the paramount issue

Friends of the treaty point out that President Wilson went to Europe to negotiate peace believing he had the country behind him. Today he is flatly told by his political opponents, that the country is not behind him.

GERMANY CAN'T FOOT THE BILL IS THE BELIEF OF BERNSTORFF

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—That Germany will not be able to carry out the terms of the peace treaty was the opinion expressed today by Count Von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States, who refused the post as foreign secretary in the present government.

"The peace conditions are impossible of fulfillment," said the former ambassador. "Altho Germany, with the best of intent, will sincerely attempt to do so she cannot live up to the conditions."

Upon being asked if he expected the allies to alter the treaty Bernstorff replied:

"It will always be the German policy openly and honorably to use all diplomatic means to secure the agreed revision of the Versailles treaty, because the conditions are so difficult, that with the best will in the world, they could not be fulfilled. It was exactly because I was convinced that the conditions could not be carried out that would never consent to place my name upon the treaty."

EARTHQUAKES KILL 7000 IN EAST MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 10—The death list in eastern Mexico since last Sunday from earthquakes was estimated at 7,000 today. Five thousand others are suffering from injuries

Nearly a score of towns and villages have been wiped out of existence.

Near Teoceio a band of 800 rebels under Celso Cepega, which were marauding the country side, were caught by flood and earthquake and destroyed.

The newly developed volcano at San Miguel mountain, in the state of Vera Cruz, is in violent eruption. At night time the flames light up the surrounding country for many miles. Vast quantities of smoke, boiling water and lava are pouring from the crater, accompanied by subterranean rumbles.

The volcano is only a few miles from Jalapa, former capital of Vera Cruz. Eighty per cent of the buildings in Jalapa have been destroyed.

The surface of the earth around the volcano has been completely transformed. Valleys now stand, where mountains formerly stood. Among the towns and villages completely destroyed or badly damaged are Teocelo, Caustalan, Acatlan, Cocomatepec, Simonese, Chichotla, Plata, Quimixtlan, Manzanita Saltillo Lafragua, Motonico, Yvahuico and Barranca Grande.

Forty others have been less seriously damaged.

It has been impossible to estimate the exact number of dead because many of the victims were completely burned and never will be recovered.

Strenuous efforts are being made to remove the debris, but the work has been retarded by lack of workmen and the reluctance of laborers to enter the earthquake zone.

It is believed that many of the Elicista rebels have been killed by the flood and earthquake as they were operating in the zone most seriously affected.

A great spilling bee in St. Louis, New York, Chicago and other points of storage is expected soon after Jan. 16. The kegs and barrels, which are worth more than the beer, will later be used to give a romantic surrounding for the not-very-near variety.

GENERAL STRIKE'S SWEEPING REPUBLIC

Travelers Reaching The Belgian Capital Bring Expected News

RUMOR UNCONFIRMED

Washington Officials Say Revolution Plot Had Been Discovered

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The state department and other government agencies here were without confirmation today of the reported revolution in Germany. Officials stated, however, that they would not be surprised if the reports were true. It was indicated that there had been information forwarded to this country that tended to show that a revolutionary plot had been discovered in Germany.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—According to a Reuter dispatch from Brussels today a new revolution has broken out in Germany, and the socialist government, headed by President Frederick Ebert, has been overthrown.

Travelers reaching Brussels from Germany were said by the Brussels correspondent of the Reuter agency to have brot unconfirmed reports that the anti-government Socialists were in control and had proclaimed a general strike.

The strike movement was reported to have spread thruout the country not held by allied forces of occupation.

According to the Reuter dispatch the "Socialists were masters of the situation."

(The Socialists referred to in the dispatch from Brussels were evidently independents who have been opposing the majority faction led by President Ebert.)

The following cablegram on the revolutionary situation in Germany was received by the International News Service on January 3, from Frank Mason, its Berlin correspondent.

"Two counter revolutions are brewing in Germany, according to openly printed political plans in the newspapers. The new year finds the country filled with conflicting political agitations caused by the problems of the war.

"The reactionaries are said to be planning a revolt to re-establish the monarchy while the radicals are reported to be plotting an uprising to bring about a dictatorship in the hands of the proletariat.

"The government, with a chip on its shoulder, proclaims that it will ruthlessly combat all attempts to overturn it.

"Berlin newspapers printing revolutionary aims of their respective political parties for 1920 notwithstanding."

LONDON, Jan. 10—Up to 4:00 o'clock this afternoon neither the foreign office nor the war office had any word regarding the unconfirmed rumor from Brussels that a new revolution had broken out in Germany and that the Ebert government had been overthrown. The war office it was said, regarded the report with "grave suspicion."

At the foreign office it was stated that no information had been received.

The British press is skeptical, doubting the truth of the report.

SOCIALISTS IN THE LEGISLATURE

The general assembly of the state of New York is in the same predicament in regard to its Socialist members that congress is in regarding the re-election of Victor Berger to membership in the national assembly.

The house expelled Berger because of his utterances, not in favor of Germany, but against the institution of war in general. He appealed to his constituents and his political enemies, in order to insure his defeat, united on a coalition candidate It was assumed that Berger was elected the first time because his Democratic and Republican opponents divided the vote that otherwise would unite against him.

The second test of strength was made with Republicans and Democrats supporting the same candidate. But Berger defeated the coalition candidate by a margin of many thousand votes. The question that confronts congress is, shall the will of the people of Berger's Wisconsin district again be nullified, or shall the house, in the exercise of its undisputed right of judging of the qualifications of it members, again throw Berger out?

In New York state five Socialists have been elected to the legislature. They were promptly suspended. There is no question that their suspension is perfectly legal, for the constitution of the state of New York, like that of most other states, is merely a copy of the clause in the federal constitution making each branch of congress sole judge as to the "elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members."

But The New York Globe says, in discussing the case, "when you have said that the action is legal you have given the only valid argument in its behalf. As a "stroke against Bolshevism" it is simply silly, and if an expulsion of these men is railroaded thru and their defeated opponents in the last election are seated in their place, more harm will be done to the theory of liberty under law and the principle of democratic government than has been done in generations.

"As today's despatch from the Globe's Albany correspondent shows, the resolution was jammed thru in a hurry, taking most of the members by surprise. The indictment of the Socialist assemblymen tries to prove that these men are revolutionists. If they are revolutionists, why have they not been arrested, tried, and imprisoned under the penal code of the State of New York? If membership in the Socialist party is ipse facto evidence that a man is unfit to be an assemblyman, then membership in the Socialist party must be a crime punishable under law.

"The Globe refuses to indorse in any degree the economic theories of the Socialist party. It regards the dictation of the executive committee over members of the party who are elected to public office as abhorrent to, and a violation of, the spirit of American institutions. The war policy of the party has already alienated from it a great many sincere believers in its principles, who found intolerable its failure to recognize the crime of Germany against civilization.

"Its national platform of August, 1919, contains a plank in regard to adherence to the Russian Soviet republic with which most Americans cannot agree. But to say that the Socialist party in toto must be disfranchised as revolutionary is an absurdity of which only a very ignorant or a very narrow man could be guilty. The very fact that the Socialists seek the franchise and use it shows that they accept the democratic formula laid down in the constitution.

"The Socialist members in past sessions of the legislature have done nothing in any way revolutionary. On the contrary, the impartial testimony of a non-Socialist investigation declared that they stood head and shoulders above the Democrats and Republican members in intellectual ability, in attention to their duties, and in study of the problems presented.

"If Senator Lusk can produce evidence that these men are not fit to serve in the legislature, by all means let him do so, and quickly. The non-representation of the voters who sent these five men to Albany should not continue a day longer than necessary. Pending the production of such evidence it is impossible not to believe that the well-meaning zealots who are in the van of our national hysteria have badly overreached themselves."

Aches and Pains of Rheumatism Sometimes Almost Unbearable.

There are weather conditions that make rheumatism worse. They are not the same in the cases of all persons. Some victims of this disease suffer more in dry warm weather than in moist cold weather, but all suffer more or less all the time.

The cause of rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood, affecting the muscles and joints. Hence the blood must have attention for permanent results in the treatment of this disease.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has given entire satisfaction in thousands of cases. Do not fail to give it a trial.

"THAT LITTLE GAME" --- Deuces and Treys Wild

New York Day-By-Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The midnight joy rides of the Broadway revelers have diminished of late. The stage door Johns used to leave the cafes at one o'clock for a dash to the Westchester road houses and cocktail drinking became a progressive affair—from one to another—until dawn or until the revel stopped by a Twin Ten going over a cliff or climbing a tree.

There was something appealing to the hardened Broadwayite about an auto drive at midnight. It took him out of the atmosphere, jazz, wine, perfume and forced hilarity and into an atmosphere picturesque and rural.

The varicolored dance floor spotlight is gaudy and cheap when compared to the great high and benignly white moon that bathed the ribbon like roads along the Sound. Chorus girls found a time to reflect too as the cars hummed and sang their way past dignified villages and out again into the countryside

There are flashes too of the moon enlightened water shimmering ghostlike among the weeds and trees and after one has had several cocktails the tremendous dignity of the thing goes to one's head and one is liable to become sentimental and sniffle about home and mother and a false life.

Then one is liable to recline one's head on another's shoulder. Here stuff! But while the cafes and saloons of Broadway are selling openly the road houses are not taking any chances. They are selling only to those whom they know and promiscuous drinking until sun-up is no more.

So it is that the Broadwayite leaves his car in the garage and his apartment becomes a rendezvous for the all night party. Nearly every man who plays the busy hive of Broadway at night these days has a dance space in his apartment. He also has a well stocked liquor cabinet and the parties go on until sunup just the same.

Except that they do not get the fresh air and the inspiration for sentimentality that they did in the old joyriding road house days that are gone.

The Catherine-st Market, the picturesque gathering of foreign born Americans, aliens and sailor merchants from all over the world, has been closed by the police. Too many carts blocked the street. The market was one of the most interesting places on the lower East Side on Sunday morning—its busiest time. Here came the Hindu sailor from India and his party the coolie from China; sailors from Spain and all over the world. A very hardy lot.

They came to buy bargains before daylight. The foreign sailors bargained for only those goods which they could resell at a profit to their fellow countrymen when they returned home. There is one old tradesman who has been coming to the market every four years for the last three decades to make purchases for a shop his wife conducts in Bombay. It takes the old man nearly all of the four years to get home and back to the market by shipping before the mast. He is on his way now, not knowing the market is closed.

The push carts of Catherine-st were marvels of ingenuity. While they were pushed to market on two wheels they resembled a huge box, which when unfolded took up a space about three times the original size of the cart. When unpacked these department stores in miniature made one wonder if Aladdin had not rubbed his lamp to bring so much out of so small a place. On these carts one could buy anything from vegetables to an outfit of clothes.

Leonard Merrick said he had never seen a city open its eyes so good humoredly as Paris and one always thinks of Paris as frivolous as its flashing fountains. But Broadway opens its eyes with a grouch and it is not until lunch time that sluggish blood begins to circulate. Conductors, waiters, clerks and policemen are surly along Broadway early. Pedestrians will snarl at being jostled but later they will smile. New York seems to hate its mornings.

THE WEED

Tobacco prices, too, have soared, in keeping with the price of board, of clothing, books and boots; and now we feel some mental jars when we dig up for punk cigars and cauliflower cheroots. There was an olden, golden time when I could take a hard-earned dime, and buy a royal smoke; a torch that drove away my care, restored the color of my hair, and made grief seem a joke But now the torch that costs a dime would drive the purchaser to crime, to arson and the like; it's made of rhubarb leaves and sage, and oft the smoker, in a rage, invokes the shade of Mike The time has come, I must admit, when it is wisdom true to quit the habit, once for all; for most cigars are made of tripe, the stuff we purchase for the pipe is ground up overall. And only plutocrats can buy the honest weed, it comes so high, and "higher still's" the news; what wonder that the poor man grieves? I'm tired of smoking cabbage leaves and dessicated shoes. I'm tired of throwing coin away for sacks that should be labeled hay, but bear tobacco's brand; and so I say to every toff This is the time for swearing off! Let's do it, hand in hand!" z z z

BRIGHT SPOTS IN THE DAY'S NEWS

A modern version of old Mother Goose's Humpty Dumpty was witnessed by Ashland residents.

Four autos went up Market-st hill at Ashland, skidded around and slid right down again.

A friendly telephone pole, which bears the marks of its four encounters, stopped the sliding machines.

The participants in the unique calisthenics were a truck, a touring car, a runabout and a taxi.

Three of the machines did not negotiate a second attmpe to make the hill. But the flivver did—and failed.

"And all the town's horses and all the town's men failed to get these autos to go up Market-st again—at least, as long as the ice lasts," commented one Ashland citizen.

Man Broke Wife's Leg for Xmas, Is Charge

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Charged with deliberately breaking his wife's leg, Frank Strepsky, 38 years old, a clerk, was held in $3500 bail in Essex Market court.

The incident is said to have occurred during a Christmas eve celebration at Strepsky's home. Witnesses say their host in a sudden outburst of hilarity, possibly wrath, they do not know which, grasped his wife, Annie, 23, by the right foot. Placing her limb across his knee, he broke it. The woman was removed to Bellevue hospital.

SIX HUNTERS CLAIM DEER

BELLEFONTE, Jan. 10—The courts may have to decide how division should be made of a deer. The animal was brot down by a party of hunters near here, and after it was found that there were six bullets in the body it developed that the six hunters had fired simultaneously. Each one believes that he shot the first and is entitled to the head and hide, as decreed by custom.

DEMOCRATS ARE BADLY DIVIDED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—While the treaty of peace was being formally ratified in Paris today it was still a moot question in the United States senate.

With the issue befogger by the statement of President Wilson and the opposing views of William Jennings Bryan, there was apparently no course of action definitely contemplated by the senate. Senator McNarry, who has been a leader in the efforts for compromise declared that he would continue on.

Among the Democrats there was considerable confusion as to just what the president had intended in his recent statement and how far he was willing to go with even interpretative reservations. Senator Hitchcack, administration leader, asserted however, that, there were sufficient votes that could be held to the support of the president to insure any action that he should advise.

The conest between Senator Hitchcock and Senator Underwood has been sharpened by the president's statement. Senator Underwood favors early action on the treaty and it was believed that this fact might swing some support to him from those Democratic senators who are not keen about the president's position.

Just How Should a German Laugh? Read On

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—An infallible method for determining whether a man is of pure Germanic blood is claimed to have been discovered by the Tagliche Rundschau.

The journal urges its readers to provoke the risible faculties of future candidates for parliament.

If they laugh with the mouth and nose, patriotic Germans should disown them, whatever be their platform or protestations, for such candidates unconsciously betray their Semitis or other un-German origin.

If, on the other hand they are observed to laugh with the mouth alone they may be voted for without hesitation. Such men are Teutons of untainted blood.

Freshmen Use Airoplanes with Much Success

SAN DIEGO, CAL., Jan. 10.—The first fleet of aeroplanes to locate schools of fish is being used by fishermen putting out of here. The planes sally out to sea and upon seeing a school of fish inform the men in the boats by wireless. The experiment has proved a success and it is expected that fish companies along the entire coast will adopt this method of locating fish.

NO MARRIED MEN WILL BE SHIPPED OUT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Orders have been given by the department of labor that no married men should be deported on the "soviet ark," Secretary of Labor Wilson stated in a letter today to Miss Helen Todd, chairman of the American Women's Committee of New York City

Thru an error, Secretary Wilson writes, the officials of the port of New York were not informed of the order and Immigration Inspector Caminetti did not learn there were men with families on board the "ark," until a short time before the departure of the vessel. In all ports except New York married men were detained in order not to separate them from their families

The secretary also stated there are no completed arrangements for the departure of another ship, with aliens caught in the recent "red" raids and the government cannot make provisions for the families of the married men on board the "soviet ark" unless the American Women's Committee can furnish them money for their expenses.

VIC DONAHEY SAYS STATES EXTRAVAGANT

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 10.—Severe criticism of the alleged extravagant methods of the state legislature is contained in a statement by State Auditor Donahey madt public today. Donahey said that in 1919 it cost Ohio $219,000,000 to run its state and local governments, the revenue being raised by direct and indirect taxation.

The 83rd general assembly has been in session a year, and its efforts to pass inheritance tax laws, income tax laws, auto tax laws, to take further taxes from the pockets of the people overshadows all other considerations, said Donahey.

"The legislature is in the grip of a huge wave of extravagance. Economics is dead and forgotten in Ohio politics."

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—"Kerensky is working in a London "beef and beanery." The poor fellow is down at the heel. He is in the same boat as I am."

New Fuel Beats "Gas," Air Mail Service Finds

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—A fuel more economical than gasoline and less hard on the motor has been tested successfully in the Air Mail Service, according to an announcement made by Otto Praeger, Second Assistant Postmaster-General, in charge of the air mail.

The tests, which were made on the Washington-New York route between August 4 and September 19, indicate a saving of 3.3 gallons of fuel. The new synthetic fuel is known commercially as alcogas and is composed of thirty eight parts of alcohol, nineteen parts of benzol, four parts toluol, and thirty parts gasoline and seven and one half parts of ether. The remaining one and one-half part is not explained.

12 Above, He Strolls About in Nightshirt

ROCKFORD, Ill., Jan. 9.—C. S. Wethington, colored, pneumonia patient in a local hospital, eluded attendants and took a hike in his nightshirt. Altho chilly blasts hammered the thermometer down to 12 degrees above zero, he didn't care. Several blocks away he pounded on the door of a residence. The surprised occupants called an officer who took Wethington back to the hospital none the worse for his promenade.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 10c and 25c.

WOMEN! DRY CLEAN THINGS AT HOME

Try it! For a few cents you can dry clean everything.

Save five to ten dollars quickly by dry cleaning everything in the home with gasoline that would be ruined by soap and water—suits, coats, waists, silks, laces, gloves, shoes, furs, draperies, rugs—everything!

Place a gallon or more of gasoline in a dishpan or washboiler, then put in the things to be dry cleaned, then wash them with Solvite soap. Shortly everything comes out looking like new. Nothing fades, shrinks, or wrinkles. Do not attempt to dry clean without Solvite soap. This gasoline soap is the secret of all dry cleaning.

A package of Solvite soap containing directions for home dry cleaning, costs little at any drug store. Dry clean outdoors or away from flame.

URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little. Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostrils Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are harshly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease.

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of Influenza, but many other kinds as well.

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arcine mixed with enough boiled water to make a full pint, half of the catarrh in this country would be abolished.

It's really no joke for people who don't know about this simple recipe to be constantly sniffing and snuffling, blowing and hawking, when all these obnoxious symptoms as well as the foul discharge can be made to disappear in a few days.

Ask for three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine—that's all you need and after you have mixed it with enough boiled water to make a pint gargle the throat twice daily and snuff or spray some up the nostrils, as directed.

The tender nostrils will soon lose their soreness, heal up, and be clean and healthy.

Important Reminder: Just as soon as anyone in the family gets a cold in the head, check it at once with this same medicine.

We maintain large general offices in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Detroit, Minneapolis, Omaha, Kansas City, and Jacksonville for the convenience of farm seekers

The past year we sold $7,840,668.00 worth of country real estate (241,750 acres) as a result of which approximately 20,000 people changed their place of residence, to their own satisfaction and profit.

It is easy for us to sell farms because we have a nation wide reputation for value-giving and square dealing that makes selling a comparatively easy proposition for us.

Our money and our service form an irresistible combination that invariably does the work. And don't lose sight of this all-important fact:

WE USE OUR MONEY TO FIND A BUYER FOR YOUR FARM.

We advertise in thousands of news papers, farm papers and magazines. We have at all times in our files the names of over 100,000 prospective farm buyers.

NO EXCLUSIVE LISTINGS

Our method of doing business is based upon fairness and justice. We do not believe in owner's listing their farms exclusively with only one agent, for the reason that we do not consider it fair to an owner that the sale of his property should be tied up with any one agent. We have the best farm-selling plan in existence. This plan does not obligate you in any way, whatever, when you list your farm with us, nor at any future time, unless we effect a sale in which event the commission for our services comes to us as agreed upon when your property is listed with our agency.

OUR TERMS

We make no charges for listing, advertising or withdrawing. If we do not make a sale, there is absolutely no expense to you. You pay us no fees of any kind unless we sell your farm. Further more you are at liberty to sell the farm yourself, to employ other agents to sell it, or to withdraw it from our agency, you would owe us nothing in either case.

WE ARE ENTITLED TO OUR COMMISSION ONLY WHEN THE SALE IS MADE TO A CUSTOMER FURNISHED BY US.

If you want to sell your farm, write today for full information to

England, at Last, Smiles at Breakfast

LONDON, Jan 10.—England is wearing smiles at the breakfast table for the first time in four years. After patient waiting and heroic endurance first class bacon is being received from the United States. Heretofore a third rate product bot by the government was supplied Sufficient stores had accumulated under the food ministry that it was possible to forego American purchases The American bacon market broke and Britain was able to stipulate that in all future shipments only the best cuts shall be sent to England For months people have been reducing their bacon purchases, for poor bacon improperly stored does not make an exactly aromatic or tasteful dish.

New Lettuce Disease Finds Way Into Ohio

A new disease of lettuce has been found by botanists at the Ohio Experiment Station to be developing in a number of the forcing houses of the state. The disease attacks the stems of the lettuce, the plants showing a brown coloration at the surface of the ground. There is also a retarded growth and a yellowing of the outer leaves which wilt and drop to the ground.

The trouble is believed to be caused by a bacterium, which lives in the soil, gaining entrance into the plants in the seed flats or when unfavorable cultural conditions result in a checked growth.

The disease is especially noticeable during days of bright sunshine when the temperature of the greenhouse rises. This lettuce infection has been known in South Carolina, where losses of more than 95 per cent are recorded. Thus far in Ohio the losses vary from two to five per cent.

Plant pathologists point out that the seed flats in which the young lettuce plants are grown should be carefully sterilized in order to control the disease.

State Forestry Program Would Help Industry

With the passing of merchantable timber in many sections of Ohio, many small towns and villages are now losing an important source of income and the reaction is reflected in depopulation, vacant houses and abandoned wood working plants, according to Edmund Secrest, forester at the Ohio experiment station.

"This is one of the reasons that approximately 500,000 acres of land in southern Ohio should come under public ownership in order to guarantee a source of hardwood for the future and also to bring some revenue from this waste land to the state," he states.

The depicted forest lands of southern Ohio have no practical utility aside from timber production, it is shown, and at present much of the second growth land is devastated by fire. It will require a state ownership policy to hold such lands for their greatest usefulness.

"Forest protection will be necessary, in publicly owned forests, which are never maintained under private ownership. There is also considerable economy in the use and disposal of timber from wooded areas, which would be placed in effect with state ownership."

"Nurseries could also be established under the state ownership plan to maintain a sufficient output of young trees for reforestation The areas where planting must be done are increasing rapidly, while steps should be taken to protect and maintain the native growth on forest soil."

A plan similar to the project laid out for Ohio has been in operation in Massachusetts for some years and has been quite successful in respect to artificial reforestation Ohio, it is pointed out, contains really more land adaptable for state forest ownership than practically any other state in the central west.

Pastor Absorbed in Bare Knee Quest, He Says

NEW YORK Jan. 10 The Rev Henry Knight Miller, pastor of Hanson Place Methodist Episcopal church defended the religious spectacle, "The Wayfarer" from the attacks of the Rev John Roach Stratton and the Rev. I M Haldeman in his sermon.

"I do not recall that there appeared in the pageant any girls with lower limbs exposed almost to the knee," as has been charged," Dr Miller said. "I fear the reverend brother was so engrossed in the morbid quest for the bare knee that all of the chaste and beautiful religious inspiration of the hour was missed"

BRYAN BLAMES PRESS FOR THE RUMOR OF SPLIT

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—William Jennings Bryan, who arrived here today from Washington, denied that he has "split" with President Wilson over the peace treaty issue. He declared the issue as too important to allow personal contentions to creep in. Mr. Bryan however reiterated his demand, first made at the Jackson Day dinner in Washington, that the treaty be ratified and signed without delay.

"I do not understand," said Mr. Bryan "the attitude of newspapers which seek to drag the discussion of these great questions down to a personal level. I stated at Washington that I am not a candidate for president. It seems to me that these issues are big enough to be considered on their own merits by those interested in securing the best things for the country.

"There is no reason why the advocacy of a compromise by me should be interpreted as opposition to the president. The president is an official and his recommendations travel by their own weight, or, as they say of auto, by their own power and by political authority.

"The constitution gives the president the right to make recommendations to congress, just as it empowers congress to pass laws and the president to veto them. The president and the senate are independent of each other and in a crisis like this the country needs the wisdom of both."

VON BRINCKEN RELEASED TO-DAY

German Baron, Convicted Of Conspiracy, Freed After Two Years—Worked With Hindu Revolutionists

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 10.—Baron William Von Brincken, released today from McNeil Island pen, where he has served a sentence for violation of the neutrality laws and for the now famous Hindu bomb plots, was served with a warrant today by immigration officials who seek his deportation.

Baron Von Brincken has filed a bond under the new proceedings against him and he will go to San Francisco to attend to personal business and later face the deportation proceedings in that city.

McNEIL ISLAND PENITENTIARY, PUGET SOUND, Wash., Jan. 10.—Baron Wilhelm von Brincken, convicted German conspirator was released from the Federal penitentiary here today after serving two years and one month.

Thus was written the final chapter in the penalty exacted by the United States from von Brincken, associate of Franz Bopp, former German Consul at San Francisco, and Echart von Schack, vice consul, and convicted of conspiring to bomb ships carrying supplies to the Allies and of fomenting revolution in India. Not alone were they planning to bomb ships, but San Francisco was to be the naval base for the supply of German raiders in the Pacific. They, according to the confession of Baron von Brincken, sent J. H. van Koolbergen, presumably an aid but in reality a British secret service man, into Canada, there to blow up railroad trestles and hinder the movement of troops.

The ramifications of their plots were international. Working with Hindu revolutionist plotters in this country, they furnished moneys for Hindu uprisings, and at one time said von Brincken, sent an emissary from here with a death list in his possession for the purpose of murdering Charles M. Schwab, Lord Kitchener, Lord Fisher and others. Schwab was to be poisoned.

Baron von Brincken brought down upon his head a divorce immediately after his conviction in the Federal courts at San Francisco from his wife, formerly Miss Milo Abercombie, society belle, who also was permitted by the court to change the name of their two children to her maiden name.

Von Brincken recently gave to Federal officials a confession, reviewing his work with the German consulate at San Francisco, in which Franz Bopp was painted as the arch conspirator of Germany in the United States. He declared it his belief that Bernstorff was not really aware of the plots and schemes hatched and perpetrated by von Papen, Boy-Ed and others.

This confession was given, as von Brincken himself said, in the hope the the United States Government would refrain from instituting deportation proceedings against him on his release from prison. His sentence expired on December 9, but, after taking a pauper's oath to escape a fine of $10,000, he was held until today.

Baron von Brincken contends that if deported from this country his life is worth little more than the snap of a finger when he returns to Germany. Because of his giving State's evidence at the trials of Bopp and von Schack, when they were charged with violation of the neutrality laws and of the Hindu plotting, he declares that German officials of the old regime would soon make away with him when he once returned.

Von Brincken, on the charge of plotting to destroy ships, had been given a sentence of two years in the federal penitentiary with a fine of $10,000. He received identically the same sentence in the Hindu cases, Judge William Van Fleet permitting the sentences to run concurrently. He had pleaded guilty to fomenting the Hindu revolution and setting on foot in this country an armed expedition against a friendly power. Thirty-two defendants, chiefly Hindus, were given sentences by the court in this case. Chief among them were Bopp and Von Schack.

Indictments in the Hindu cases were originally returned on July 7, 1917, and on the thirtieth of that month the defendants were arraigned. Convictions followed.

How easy it was for the British secret service men to dupe even these arch conspirators, themselves pastmasters in the trade, was exemplified by the "trestle blowing act." They testified Von Brincken had given Van Koolbergen traveling expenses into British Columbia, where he was to destroy a trestle over the main line track of the Canadian Pacific Railroad. Troops would be stopped in their passage to the east coast and thence overseas many days thru such work.

Koolbergen, going to the Canadian authorities, arranged for them to officially announce the destruction of the trestle and all Canadian and even American newspapers the following day carried an account of such destruction. Koolbergen, returning to San Francisco, showed Von Brincken the account in the papers of his "deed" and collected $1000 "reward."

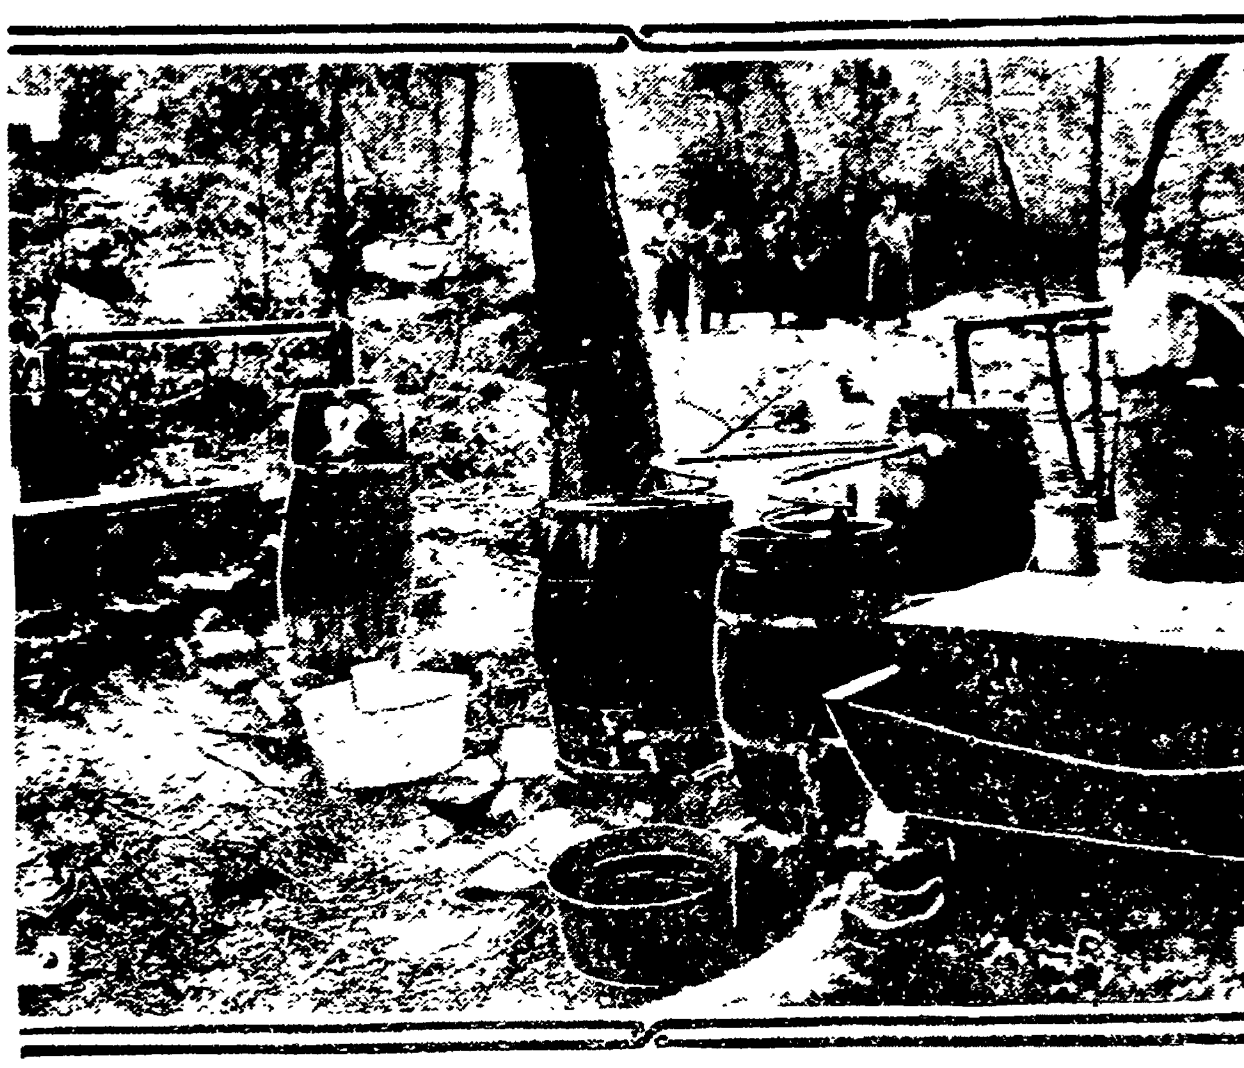

Von Brincken has sworn that a wireless plant stationed in the yard of a resident in San Francisco on the crest of a hill enabled the officials of the consulate to communicate with "gun runners" and whomsoever they chose as they plied the waters of the Pacific.

Ram Chandra, leader of the Hindu colony in San Francisco, convicted also in the plots of the German consulate, was given the death list containing the names of many enemies of Great Britain and the allies. The purpose of this list, murder, was repudiated by him, but, said Von Brincken, he allowed funds to be [illegible] to Professor Lal, another Hindu [illegible] to embark on a journey to England and allied countries for the purpose of "gently doing away" with those whose names appeared.

Von Brincken, released today, enters a world in which he hopes to succeed in business. He [illegible] asked the government to refrain from instituting deportation proceedings on the ground that he would be killed should he be sent back to Germany. He says he has always been a friend of the United States in his heart, and that while with the consulate never himself "did any harm."

He made a hard fight from his cell in the penitentiary here to compel his wife to retain the name of their children and at one time wrote a most pathetic letter to the court and her attorneys, asking that the case be dropped and the divorce denied. A bitter action was had in the superior court at San Francisco. Mr. Von Brincken finally winning her point.

SUSPENSION OF LEGISLATORS IS MAKING TROUBLE

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The suspension of five socialist members of the New York assembly is arousing a political tornado and a meeting of the state Republican committee was hastily convened here today to consider the situation. Speaker Sweet of the assembly, who came here from Albany for the meeting, declared that the judiciary committee which will decide the cases of the five socialists will be named Monday and will quickly proceed with its task. A storm of protest has arisen against the action of Speaker Sweet and his advisers in attempting to expel the socialists from the Legislature. One of the latest came from Charles E. Hughes, former Republican nominee for president, who contended that such action would do more to encourage the spirit of revolution and to strengthen the advocates of violence than any conservable propaganda could accomplish.

Mr. Hughes declared that the suspension of the socialists, who were not accused of any crime, is an action directed at the socialist party and is opposed to the fundamental principles of American government.

Mr. Hughes predicted that the suspension of the socialist assemblymen would greatly increase the membership of the socialist party.

The socialists plan to raise a fund of $200,000 to conduct a legal fight and a campaign of propaganda in favor of the five socialist assemblymen. Alderman Beckerman, a socialist, said that many contributions already had been received.

Mass meetings were held here today at which the five assemblymen delivered addresses.

In an interview assemblymen Clarsens, one of the suspended legislators, was reported to have said that the socialists were taking a vote on the question of affiliating themselves with the third internationale at Moscow.

FATTEST IN THE WORLD FOR HIS AGE; SIX YEARS OLD, WEIGHS 214 POUNDS

Little Pompa Giantino.

Just six years old is Pompa Giantino of Everett, Mass., but for his age he is what might be called well-developed, for he has attained the considerable weight of 214 pounds. Pompa was born of normal weight, but has gained rapidly ever since he came into the world. His mother, Mrs. Paolina Giantino, is extremely proud of the capacity of her infant prodigy, who eats more food in a day than she and her husband consume in three.

UNCLE SAM IS STILL NAGGING AT CARRANZA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The United States has issued additional instructions to the American embassy in Mexico City, with regard to the murder of James Wallace, an American by a Carranzista soldier several weeks ago. This announcement was made by the state department today. The instructions were not made public.

Orders were given that representations for a speedy punishment of the murderers of Wallace be made by the American embassy, the state department announced. Investigation had shown that Wallace was murdered by a drunken Carranzista soldier, it was declared.

1920 A GOOD YEAR FOR CUPID

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Confirmed and irreconcilable bachelors look askance, nay, view with alarm the calendar for 1920, with particular attention directed to February. A casual glance suffices to indicate the reason for apprehension for February, 1920, contains 29 days, 1920 being a leap year.

But this is not all. The twentyninth day is Sunday so that the month will carry five Sabbaths on which maidens may stalk their prey. Five days on which, all business activities suspended, bachelors cannot seclude themselves in the inner regions of their offices, but must come forth to run the gauntlet.

And to make a bad matter worse, Friday of the second week of February falls on the 13th.

Once in a century February has five Sundays and 1920 is the one-hundredth year since a similar phenomenon occurred. Everything considered, 1920 should prove a lucky year for the girls but to the bachelor contingent the twelve months are filled with dark forebodings.

OBITUARY

Cyrus Francis Mizer, son of Alfred and Mary Mizer, was born Oct. 14th, 1878, in Holmes County, Ohio, and departed this life Dec. 28th, 1919, at the age of 41 years, 2 months and 14 days.

On Dec. 25th, 1902, he was united in marriage to Leota Anderson. To this union were born two sons, Russel, aged 10 and Raymond, aged 15 mos.

He leaves to mourn their loss a companion, two sons, father, mother, five brothers and three sisters, namely, Loyd of Bladensburg, Howard of West Carlisle, Roy and Everett of Walhonding, Elmer of West Bedford, Mrs. Laura Doolittle of Millwood, O., Mrs. Hattie Matthews of Tunnel Hill and Alice of the home, besides a host of relatives and friends.

He united with the Dennis Christian Church when but a boy and was later transferred to the Goshen M. E. church, where he remained a faithful follower of the Lord, until his mission here on earth was finished and the Master called him Home.

His was a life worthy of our consideration and was admired and respected by all who knew him. His life was filled with love and true devotion, not only to his loved ones, but to his God.

He knew his Lord and served him well. To serve in the Kingdom was his delight. No duty to him was a drudgery. No cross too heavy to bear, and the riches of God's grace and love, which filled his heart and life, brought sunshine and gladness to those about him.

The Church and community have lost a brother and a friend, but their loss is his gain.

His life was spent for the Master, and even in his dying hour, while the veil was being lifted, and the white-robed hosts were calling he plead with those about him to give their hearts to God.

Death, to him brought no fear, for Perfect Love, which was his experience had cast out all fear. He lived a victorious life and died a triumphant death.

"Blessed are the dead, who die in the Lord.
"Farewell, dear friends, I'm going home.
My Savior's voice I hear.
He calls me sweet and clear."

"Pray do not weep when I am gone,
For you must follow me.
Make ready now, before too late.
To meet eternity."

"Sweet is the time, when Jesus speaks
To souls prepared to die:
The Angels stand around my bed.
Farewell! I mount! I fly."

A Soldier true has passed away.
The ranks with which he trod,
Are left to martial 'gainst the foe,
For Frank has gone with God."
